

Christmas deliveries vegboxes, meat, turkeys and more..

All vegbox deliveries will be delivered on your normal delivery day during the Christmas week – The same applies to collection points but please check with individual shops when they close for Christmas, please make sure you collect all produce by midday on Christmas Eve at the very latest. We don't deliver during the week between Christmas and New Year, therefore, unless you let us know otherwise, we will double your normal order for the Christmas week, giving you plenty of veg and fruit to cover for the 2 week break (we'll also include chestnuts and mushrooms in all the veg boxes and nuts and dates in the fruit boxes as treats). If you're a fortnightly customer, due to have your box during the Christmas week, you'll get your normal order (not double) that week; but all fortnightly deliveries that fall between Christmas and New Year need to let us know if they require an extra one-off delivery for the Christmas week, or your next fortnightly delivery will be during the week beginning Monday 10th January. Please let us know of any alterations by 15th December at the very latest.

MEAT BOXES – you'll receive your normal meat box order as usual if you have one during the Christmas week which will be a week earlier than normal as we will not be delivering during Christmas and New Year. Please let us know if you require any special orders for the Christmas meat boxes or if you would like us to include game as part of your box or order a game box in addition to your normal meat box.
